HOODLUMS
DEBARRED FROM THE CARNIVAL

No hoodlumism, no rascals and no bad conduct at the Elks' Carnival are the orders of Sheriff J. D. Scott and he has issued the following warning that none will be tolerated. Hoodlums and hoodlums of all kind are absolutely prohibited as in the great crowd that will be present and owing to the business and the temporary structures on the elaborated Elks' Trail, there will be deadly dangerous. The sheriff gives a warning that the first offense will be the sound the gong and that those arrested will not merely be brought to the station and later released, but will be held in jail until presented the next morning. Sheriff J. D. Scott issued these same warnings before the Christmas holidays and they were strenuously enforced. They will be enforced to a greater degree this time, and the Trail will be well policed.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

A new kaluna is expected here on March 1.

Alama Leong Akana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leong San Choy, was married last night by Elder G. J. Waller to Tom Cheek, steward of the steamship Nevada.

President Morgan, of the chamber of commerce, has arranged for more frequent meetings of the trustees of the chamber of commerce, these to be held at luncheon time when the members can gather downtown for a half hour's discussion of many matters of interest.

The Elks' masquerade ball tickets for Monday night are $2.50 which gives the holder the free run of the masquerade ball and the Elks' Trail. General admission to the Elks' Trail is fifty cents, but this does not entitle the ticket holder to take in the ball in the roof garden.

J. T. Malay, second engineer of the steam dredger South Bay, who was taken to the Queen's Hospital yesterday, having been severely burned by the blowing out of a steam valve, was reported last night to be suffering great pain, but in no danger. It was said that there was no doubt of his recovery.

Doctor Dillingham intimates that items are mounting up in dollars a little more than he had anticipated. He looks to the business community and the body of civic leaders to the people.

The situation still is that a good number of people have subscriptions now to be used in pledges. These funds will be used when known it and the community again reminds them that their cooperation is necessary to the success of the show.
